

Empress Place Market is more commonly known as 'Farrer Road Market' as it is located along Farrer Road, just before Holland Road. It is nestled in the residential estate of Queen's Road and next to the Farrer Road MRT.

Spend the morning with our chef exploring the market to purchase the Asian ingredients that you will be using in your cooking class. After all, there's no better way to experience the culture and community of Singapore than at a busy local market!

After shopping, return to the school kitchen and begin to cook your menu with the expertise and guidance from our chef. You will then enjoy the delicious local delights that you have created after your cooking class.
